

Jose

Jose and Kittikens were surrendered to SNAP recently by their owner. Their owner was moving into a new place where one of the residents had allergies. The duo get along well with one another and are to go as a pair. Jose has been declawed and the previous owner ensured their vaccines were up-to-date prior to surrendering. As of right now the team are timid and trying to adjust to their temporary surroundings. If you are interested in giving them a second chance at a comfortable home please contact SNAP.
